NINTH FALL CONFERENCE

Enthusiastic Meetings of the Fourth District Y. M. C. A.

OPENED WITH BANQUET

Interesting Papers Were Read and Addresses Made at the Friday Evening Session in the Gymnasium

VISIT STATE COLLEGE ON SATURDAY

The Ninth Fall Conference of the Fourth district of the Pennsylvania Young Men's Christian Association opened at the Y. M. C. A. building Friday evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock with a banquet to the delegates. The tables were spread in the large Beaver Memorial gymnasium and covers were laid for about one hundred. Only about fifty of the delegates were present for the banquet, besides the board of directors and friends of the local association. The tables were very prettily decorated with candles, etc. and an elegant three-course repast was served, consisting of oysters and celery; cold meats, salads, pickles, bread and buns, ice cream, cake and coffee. The banquet was under the supervision of Mrs. C. N. Meserve who was ably assisted by a number of the ladies of town. A number of the junior members of the Y. M. C. A. acted as waiters and performed their work to perfection. At the close of the banquet the delegation from Lock Haven moved a vote of thanks to the ladies, which was seconded by the College boys and unanimously carried by a rising vote. A second motion was made to include the waiter boys which was also signified by a rising vote. The tables were then cleared and the conference proper began.

Prof. James R. Hughes, president of the local association acted as toastmaster, and very ably filled that position. In the absence of General James A Beaver, a member of the state executive committee, Prof. Hughes made a brief address to the delegates and spoke to them on the importance of the conference. He then read a letter from Gen. Beaver, who expressed a regret that he could not be present to personally welcome them to our town. The theme of the conference is "Responsibility," and this was struck at the very opening and never lost sight of throughout the addresses and papers of the evening. John H. Mathias, of Lewisburg responded to the address of welcome and spoke of the privilege they had of being entertained in the home of three of Pennsylvania's governors, the town named after the beautiful spring with supplies it with crystal pure water at all times and the town comprised of good and enterprising citizens.

In the absence of B. W. Musselman, of Danville, C. H. Manley, secretary of the Fourth district committee read a paper on "The Directors' Responsibility to the Association." The paper dwelt at some length of the mutual responsibility of the directors to the secretary and the secretary to the directors, and how that the directors should be personally interested in the work of the association and the efforts of the secretary toward evangelism and the proper training of young men in the community.

B. B. Cannon, of Milton read a paper on "The Active Members' Responsibility to the Association." He treated on the discipline necessary to keep the boys in line for work, referring to the necessity of discipline in military life, and the importance of the members attending all the meetings of the association and to get others interested in their meetings.

S. W. Dickson, president of the Berwick association was to have read a paper on "The Employed Officers' Responsibility to the Association," but on account of dedicating a fine new $40,000 gymnasium at this time could not be present. His place was ably filled by Wm. Brady, vice president of the Lock Haven Normal association. The toastmaster then gave an opportunity to the delegates to give one minute talks on the papers which had been read and responses were made by R. W. Matthews, general secretary at Lock Haven; H. J. Sheppard, secretary of the Renovo association, who spoke of the importance of the board being frequently about the building; J. B. Watson, of State College, who said that few could better realize the responsibility of the secretary than himself as he and the president had to do the work there in the absence of a secretary. He was followed by W. D. Hevner, of Sunbury, who spoke to the importance of prayer. Rev. James B. Stein and Rev. A. M. Schmidt made some very appropriate and inspiring remarks.

The final address and resume of the evening was made by John A. Eby, State Secretary of Religious work. Mr. Eby spoke at some length on the purposes of the Y. M. C. A. and the importance of the work in the present religious crisis. District President, S. G. Gearhart made a brief address and announcement of matters pertaining to the conference.

The Fourth Pennsylvania district comprises the following counties: Potter, Tioga, Clinton, Lycoming, Centre, part of Clearfield, Union, Snyder, part of Northumberland, Montour and Columbia. The following city and town associations are included: Arnot, Bellefonte, Lock Haven, Williamsport, Milton, Danville, Bloomsburg, Berwick. Railroad: Renovo, Sunbury, Jersey Shore. Student - Bucknell University, Bucknell Academy, Bloomsburg S. N. S., Susquehanna University, Mansfield S. N. S., Williamsport Dickinson Seminary State College. Lock Haven. S. N. S. Volunteer—Peale, Greenwood, Spring Mills.

SATURDAY.

At 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning the delegates met at the United Brethern church where a very inspiring song and praise service was held. Following this question of the "Association's Responsibility to a Young Man" was taken up and presented from the three practical standpoints; physically by F. E. Wood, of Milton; Intellectually, G. H. Gunnison, of Jersey Shore; Spiritually, W. D. Hevner, Sunbury. The training of young men in these three respects is the great object of the association and some excellent thoughts and suggestions were developed in the papers and discussion that followed. At the close of this service the delegates left for State College where they spent the remainder of the day.

One of the most delightful features of the conference was the trip to State College. The delegates and officers were entertained at noon by a luncheon given by President and Mrs. Edwin E. Sparks at their residence which was much enjoyed by all. At 1.30 they assembled in the auditorium to listen to the address of Prof. F. H. Green, of West Chester, whose words stirred their very souls and could not help but be an inspiration to all who heard him. The remainder of the afternoon was pleasantly spent in sight seeing about the college and at Beaver field where they witnessed the Geneva–State football game. The delegates were all well pleased with their visit to the college town.

Owing to the wreck on the Bellefonte Central railroad the delegation was delayed in reaching Bellefonte, and it was about 8 o'clock before they returned. On this account the meeting scheduled for the Methodist church was greatly disarranged. In order to expedite time and get to the more important part of the program the stereopticon was dispensed with. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Edwin E. Sparks of State College, who took for his theme the "Call of Duty." He spoke of the great men of history from Columbus' time down to the present, who accomplished much good for the world by heeding the call of duty in the face of many difficulties.

SUNDAY.

Sunday morning the delegates attended a quiet hour service at the Y. M. C. A. building.

During Sunday the visiting member of the committee and the secretaries addressed the congregations in the various churches as follows:

United Brethern, R. W. Mathews, of Lock Haven.

Lutheran, John H. Mathias, of Lewisburg.

Presbyterian, F. H. Green, of West Chester.

Evangelical, C. H. Manley, of Danville, morning and young peoples meeting in the evening.

Methodist, W. D. Hevner, of Sunbury, in the morning and Epworth League in the evening. The League was also addressed by F. E. Wood, of Milton, and Geo. B. Reimensnyder, of Sunbury.

In the afternoon at 3.30 o'clock a men's mass meeting was held in the court house. About 235 persons were present. A male quartet from State College was present and rendered special music. Prayer was offered by Rev. D. Barshinger, of Bellefonte, and Scripture read by Mr. Mathias, of Lewisburg. The speaker for the afternoon was Prof. F. H. Green, of West Chester, who used as

TROUT RUN ENDANGERED

Lycoming Town Threatened by Nearby Forest Fires

HEAVY PALL OF SMOKE

Berry-pickers are Blamed for Starting Fire to Insure Big Crop of Huckleberries Next Year

FIRE DEPARTMENT READY FOR CALL

Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 19.—Williamsport has been enveloped in a heavy pall of smoke all day due to forest fires that are raging fiercely in a half dozen sections of Lycoming and adjoining counties.

Tonight a fire engine and company of Williamsport's paid department are being held in readiness to proceed to Trout Run, this county, should a fire, raging in that vicinity get beyond control It is being fanned by a lively breeze, which may drive it across trenches which have been dug, in which event it is believed that nothing can keep the fire out of the town.

The Ledge of the Lycoming Hunting Club and valuable property of the Central Pennsylvania Lumber Company are menaced. Huckleberry pickers, with an eye to a bumper crop next season, are blamed for the fires.

Fires are also raging in the forests near Oriole, this county, and at Nordmont, Sullivan county, men have been fighting a blaze since Saturday. This is not far from Eaglesmere, and some apprehension is felt lest the flames spread in the direction of that summer resort. Eaglesmere, however, is well prepared to fight fires.

Constable Rodman, of Brown township, who here this afternoon to collect a bill for fighting fires, reported that fires are raging in the Kettle Creek region in Elk township, Tioga county, sweeping toward the Lycoming county line, and defying efforts to halt them.

Benjamin Bradley.

Residents of this community were shocked Monday evening to learn of the sudden death of Benjamin Bradley, one of Bellefonte's aged and respected citizens. Mr. Bradley had been about as usual up until Monday morning when he complained of a pain in the breast. He ate a hearty dinner and after the noon meal laid down for a rest. About four o'clock he was taken suddenly ill and while one of the members of the family was summoning a physician he expired.

Mr. Bradley was born in Gloucestershire, England, February 8, 1840, and was aged 68 years, 8 months and 11 days Thirty-five years ago he and his wife came to America and located in Bellefonte where he has since made his home, and followed the trade of a contractor and builder. He was a member of the St. John's Episcopal church of Bellefonte, being a man of integrity and irreproachable character. During his life in Bellefonte he won the friendship of every one and his death is mourned by a host of friends.

Surviving are his wife and six children as follows: Mary, at home; Mrs. Geo. P. Bible, of Philadelphia; Mrs. J. A. Riley, of Bradford; John W. and Benjamin of Philadelphia; Robert T., of Bradford. He is also survived by one sister in England and one brother, Thomas, of Buffalo.

The funeral of the late Mr. Benjamin Bradley will take place at the Parish House of St. John's Episcopal church. Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, private services will be held at the home at 1 o'clock. Rev. John Hewitt will conduct the services, Interment will be made in the Union cemetery.

Semi-Monthly Council.

The regular semi-monthly session of the borough council was held Monday evening with members Harper, Hamilton, Wagner, Shuey, Kirk and Keller present. In the absence of President Judge, Mr. Kirk was chosen to preside.

John Bower withdrew the bid of Drake and Fisher for the lighting of the streets of Bellefonte in view of the fact that the borough had under consideration a plan for maintaining a borough lighting plant.

In view of the fact that only six of the members of council were present, action on the Drake-Fisher electric franchise was deferred until next night of meeting

The chairman of the special water and power committee was not present and no report was received from him. After approving the bills read council adjourned.

BELLEFONTE CENTRAL WRECK

Rails Spread and Car Overturned Tumbling Down Steep Embankment

The afternoon passenger train on the Bellefonte Central railroad was wrecked near Struble's about 5 o'clock Saturday. The train had been to Pine Grove Mills and was returning to State College, and when passing over the fill at place mentioned the rails spread. The passenger coach overbalanced and tumbled down the embankment alighting bottom side up, throwing the passengers about in confusion. The car was badly broken up but the engine remained on the track.

Three of the passengers on the train were badly injured. They were Miss Sadie Donley, of Pine Grove Mills, arm broken and her body badly bruised; Susan Donley, of the same place, severely bruised over the eye, and James Moffett, of Stone Valley, a badly lacerated face. All the other passengers on the train were slightly bruised and injured.

A train was hastily made up and the three persons who were injured worst were brought to the Bellefonte hospital where their injuries were dressed and they are getting along good.

The delegates to the Y. M. C. A. conference were in State College, and intended returning to Bellefonte at 5.30 but had to wait until a special train was made up and run to the College, delaying their return till about 8 o'clock.

Randall—Confer.

At 5.30 Wednesday evening last, Kathryn Myrtle Confer was married at her home, by the Rev. H. C. Patterson, of Eagleville, to Harry Oscar Randall, of Portland, Me. Kathryn is one of the several bright, industrious, well behaved daughters of former postmaster W. E. Confer, and Mr. Randall is to be congratulated upon his worthy choice. The wedding was a formal and elaborate one and the cozy home was more than filled by relatives and friends who graced the occasion. Mrs. Confer's well known superiority as a housekeeper and cook, insured a most dainty repast at the wedding supper, and the wedding bells rang joyfully. Mr. and Mrs. Randall left on the 8.46 train for a wedding trip, and will make their home at Portland, Me., where Mr. Randall is employed as a printer.

The decoration was a beautiful arrangement of autumn leaves, trailing spine, ferns, palms and carnations. Miss Treva Pletcher rendered the wedding march very effectively and the wedding group comprised Miss Thyra Langenquist, of Ridgway; Mr. Ronald Welch, of Howard; and Miss Sue Watson and Mr. Robert Huss, both of Tyrone, with pretty little Pearl Confer, a sister of the bride, as flower girl. The out of town guests were: Lawrence Williams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruner Williams and Frank Williams and family, Salona; Miss Effie Powers, Cedar Springs; Rev. and Mrs. M. U. Frick, Jesse Fox and family, Miss Tacy Bowers, Ward Fox and family Mill Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, Lock Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Kline Confer, Harry Confer and family, Beech Creek; Mr. and Mrs. James Bechdel, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lingle, Blanchard; John Trexler, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Dunkle, Jersey Shore; Claude Watson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lucas, Miss Gertie Mingle, Tyrone; W. R. McCloskey, Romola; J. H. Fox, G. W. Rosenbury, Philadelphia.

Judge Bucher Dead.

Joseph C. Bucher 72 years old, formerly president judge of the Twentieth judicial district, died at his home in Lewisburg Sunday morning of ailments incident to old age. The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Bucher was one of Pennsylvania's noted jurists. He graduated from Franklin and Marshall college with the class of '55, taking first honors. After leaving college he located at New Berlin and in 1859 was admitted to the bar. In 1860 he was elected district attorney of Union county and in 1871 he was elected president judge of Union, Snyder and Mifflin counties by a handsome vote, being at that time the youngest man in Pennsylvania to don the judicial ermine.

During the twenty years he sat upon the bench his judgement and ability were never questioned and he had the distinction of never having a criminal case reversed by the supreme court. Following his retirement from the bench in 1892 he succeeded Judge Packer as solicitor for the Pennsylvania Railroad company. He also took an active interest in the affairs of the town and was an active member of the Presbyterian church. He is survived by three sons and one daughter.

ELECTION OF TAFT ASSURED

Conservative Estimate Gives Him 242 Electoral Votes Sure

AND HE IS GAINING

Bryan is Conceded 118 Electoral Votes and a Large Majority of the Doubtful States are in Taft's Favor

REPUBLICANS ARE NOW CONFIDENT.

The developments in the national campaign during the past fortnight, the drawing of lines incident to the tours of the two candidates, Taft and Bryan; the reports from uncertain territory and the adjustment of party differences in old Republican States make it possible to give an alignment of the States as they now appear to stand from a conservative Republican viewpoint.

The following states are sure for Taft: California, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming, making a total of 242 electoral votes The following are conceded to Bryan: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, North Carolina Oklahoma, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, a total of 118 electoral votes.

The following doubtful states have a total of 80 electoral votes, and are probably Taft: Colorado, Delaware, Montana, Nebraska, New York, South Dakota, Utah, West Virginia. The following doubtful states are favorable to Bryan: Kentucky, Missouri, Tennessee, with a total of 43 electoral votes,

The total vote in the Electoral College is 483, of which 242 are a majority.

According to the above statement which is completed on the most reliable and unexaggerated information that reaches the Republican managers, Judge Taft is now absolutely sure of the necessary majority. The eighty doubtful votes, that are only doubtful because of some uncertainties as to party loyalty and local quarrels, but which are confidently claimed by the national chairman and his advisers, would give Judge Taft 322.

There are but 118 votes conceded to Mr. Bryan, and of these the fifteen votes of Nevada and North Carolina are claimed by enthusiastic Republicans at headquarters. The three doubtful States listed as probably Bryan are all regarded as debatable territory, particularly Kentucky, where the Republicans are in control of the State government and also of the municipal government of the city of Louisville, which some Kentucky experts declare means 5000 Republican majority in that municipality.

Republican National Chairman Hitchcock believes that the situation is well in hand, that the election of Taft is assured and that the closing days of the campaign will witness the Republican gains throughout the country. He is entirely satisfied with conditions in the West and Middle West and believes that his understanding of the general situation, as being favorable to Taft, will be borne out by the returns on November 3rd.

Secretary Henry C. Loudenslager of the Republican Congressional Campaign committee makes this statement:

"We will control the next House of Representatives, if the Republicans do their duty. I am not prepared at this time to give figures on the probable division. Our reports show that many who a few weeks ago were talking Bryan are coming around to a different way of thinking. On the whole, the situation, from our viewpoint is steadily and surely improving.

—Adam Shoyer of Milesburg, night watchman at the depot had a narrow escape from injury Tuesday evening. He was driving up North Water street when another horse began kicking at him. A shaft of Mr. Shoyer's buggy was broken and other damage was done. He escaped injury himself.

ONE MORE FOR ACADEMY

Our Strong Team Defeats the Williamsport High School

The Bellefonte Academy football team added another victory to its long string of victories by defeating the strong Williamsport High School eleven at Athletic park on Saturday afternoon by the close score of 5—0. The visitors had won every game played up to Saturday's game, including among their victims the Lock Haven Normal school team which they recently vanquished at Lock Haven by the score of 5-0. The visitors also in view of the excellent team they have are scheduled to play the freshmen eleven of the University of Penn? The above facts added a peculiar interest to the contest on Saturday and it was by no means a surprise to the Academy boys to find themselves fighting with opponents worthy of their steel The visitors certainly proved themselves a fast and heady aggregation. So much more is it to the credit of the Academy to say that their own goal was never seriously endangered during the entire fifty minutes of play while on the other hand the Williamsport lads can congratulate themselves that they were scored upon but once, for several times the Academy had the ball dangerously near the visitors goal line but failed to get it over owing to the over anxiety of the home boys and the stubborn and clever resistance of the visitors. Both teams were severly penalized once. The home eleven for tripping and the visitors for holding. A harder fight or snappier game has not been seen here for a long time. The Academy fumbled more than usual in the first half. This was, perhaps, due to the hot weather and the new ball. Dillon as usual came to the rescue and won the game by gathering in the ball on a fumble and rushing through his opponents for the coveted touchdown. A couple of moments before he made this score he had a clear field for another touchdown but fell and lost his opportunity. In no way can the visitors claim that they were not fairly defeated because their goal line was actually crossed for the winning score and was seriously threatened upon other occasions, while the Academy goal line was never crossed or even dangerously threatened. The visitors will put up the game of their lives when the Academy plays the return game on Thanksgiving in Williamsport. Last year these evenly matched teams played a 6-6 game at Williamsport.

Next Saturday the Academy anticipates the hardest game of the season with Dickinson Seminary's fast eleven at Williamsport. This team has defeated two teams this season by scores 90-0 and 69-0 respectively, and on Saturday won from Bloomsburg Normal's strong team by 6-0. The Academy hopes to hold them down to a creditable score.

Found Stolen Goods.

On Tuesday night, October 6th, some person or persons entered the store of the Manufacturers Outlet Clothing company and took therefrom a large amount of clothing. While a close watch was kept for a clue that would lead to the robbery, nothing developed until Friday when a farmer named Callahan made a startling discovery. Mr. Callahan resides a mile and a half east of Bellefonte along the Nittany valley road. On the day named he was out with his dog and noticed it pulling at something in a railroad culvert near his home. He investigated and found the dog was pulling at a coat, and was surprised to find further two burlap sacks and a bundle, all filled with clothing. He reported his find to the clothing company and in the afternoon the clothing was brought to the store in Bellefonte.

The two bags and the bundle contained 20 suits of clothes a dozen shirts, a bundle of socks and several sweaters. Nearly every piece of clothing was ruined by the mud and water in which it had probably laid since the night it was stolen. As yet there is no clue to perpetrators of the robbery.

Attempt to Rob Y. M. C. A.

Three young men were apprehended by Policeman Beezer at twelve o'clock Friday night in an attempt to break into the Y. M. C. A. building. The young men were allowed to depart in peace, but another offense will place them in a very embarrasing position, we are afraid,

A banquet had been held at the association building the evening before so we can only guess what the young fellows were after. However, it is a very serious offense to break into a public or private building. A word to the wise, etc.

VACCINATION LAW DEFECTS

Pointed Out by Superintendent Schaeffer In Report.

PARENTS NOT PUNISHED

Conflicts Between Provisions of Compulsory and Vaccination Laws Keep Children from School.

EXTRACT FROM SCHAEFFER'S REPORT

Conflicts between the provisions of the compulsory education and vaccination laws of Pennsylvania are held blameable for keeping thousands of children out of the public schools of the State by Superintendent of Public Instruction Nathan C. Schaeffer in the annual report which he submitted to Governor Stuart Wednesday. He declares bluntly that the hopes of those who endeavored to make vaccination general have not come to pass.

Still more startling is the superintendent's statement that ministers and Sunday school officers permit unvaccinated children to come to Sunday school and are as much law breakers as the school officials who allow children to attend sessions when they can not produce a certificate.

In his remarks on the subject of vaccination Dr. Schaeffer says:—

The State Commissioner of Health, Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, ascertained that in 9851 schools which his subordinates inspected there were 50,817 unvaccinated children in attendance. The total number of schools in the State is 33,171. These figures show that the progress of those who framed the law excluding unvaccinated children from schools and who hoped thereby to make vaccination universal has not been realized.

Moreover, legislation which, through no fault of their own, makes children lawbreakers for the sake of getting an education, is very far from satisfactory. The law now favors those who wish to evade the penalty for neglecting to send their children to school. By simply refusing to furnish a certificate of successful vaccination the parent can have the child excluded from school, and the power of the attendance officer over said child is at an end.

The dissemination of anti-vaccination literature is daily increasing the difficulties by which the schools are confronted. Fully 60 per cent. of all the letters sent to the educational commission bear upon vaccination.

The statistical portion of the report shows that there are 2580 school districts in the State, 33,171 schools, 7438 male teachers, 26,525 female teachers, 1,231,200 pupils, an increase of 6812. The average number of pupils in daily attendance last year was 951,670.

Will it Fly?

K. E. Farnsworth, an electrician of Altoona, has invented an airship which he claims will revolutionize the science of flying. He has applied for a patent for his machine and until this is granted he refuses to divulge the nature of his invention.

However, he intimates that it is built something on the lines suggested by Edison, that it will be capable of a speed of a mile a minute and can be constructed at nominal cost.

It is of the heavier-than air type and Farnsworth alleges that it will be so constructed that there will be nothing to break and get out of gear and toss the occupants to earth.

Saved by her Glasses.

Mrs. Feldman, of Hontzdale, on Sunday had a narrow escape from a painful accident. In straightening up things a little about her home that morning, as is woman's wont, she picked up a small package containing what looked to her like sulphur and unthinkingly threw it in the stove. The moment it touched the hot coals the powder exploded and had it not been for Mrs. Feldman's glasses, her eyes would have received the force of the explosion. The contents of the package are still unidentified, but quite likely it was chlorate of potash, which is one of the component parts of gunpowder.

Large Barn Burned.

The large barn together with all the outbuildings on the farm of the late Frederick Bower just east of Mt. Eagle, was destroyed by fire about midnight Wednesday. The farm is occupied by Ammon Gramley and his loss will be quite heavy as all the season's crops were burned and most of the farming implements. A valuable bull was burned to death, the other livestock being rescued with difficulty. The orgin of the fire is unknown. The loss to both the Bower estate and Mr. Gramley is partly covered by insurance.

Falling In Love.

I do not doubt that as the world goes on a deeper sense of moral responsibility in the matter of marriage will grow up among us. But it will not take the false direction of ignoring these our profoundest and holiest instincts. Marriage for money may go, marriage for rank may go, marriage for position may go, but marriage for love, I believe and trust, will last forever. Men in the future will probably feel that a union with their cousins or near relations is positively wicked; that a union with those too like them in person or disposition is at least undesirable; that a union based upon considerations of wealth or any other consideration save considerations of immediate natural impulse is base and disgraceful. But to the end of time they will continue to feel in spite of doctrinaires that the voice of nature is better far than the voice of the lord chancellor or the royal society and that the instinctive desire for a particular helpmate is a surer guide for the ultimate happiness both of the race and of the individual than any amount of deliberate consultation. It is not the foolish fancies of youth that will have to be got rid of, but the foolish, wicked and mischievous interference of parents or outsiders.—Grant Allen.

Knew the Sound of Wood.

There was an argument on a cricket field in a village near Nottingham, England, which interrupted the game for some time. The match was being played between the local tradesmen of the village. All went well until the bowler, who was the village constable, a man over six feet tall, sent a ball which bumped up from the ground and hit the village butcher, who was batting and who was exceedingly fat and perspiring freely, on the head. The wicket keeper, a remarkably thin and agile man, who was the village grocer, caught the ball and yelled, "'Ow's that?'

"Hout!" shouted the village baker, who possessed only one eye.

"Hi! say now!" roared the fat butcher, who refused to have it so. "But hit 'it me on the 'ead."

"Hi don't know where hit 'it you," responded the umpire, who was the village undertaker, "but Hi knows the sound of wood when Hi 'ears hit, so hout you go."

The Tricksters.

"Political tricksters always give themselves away," said a congressman. "Their methods remind me of the two men who wanted to sell their corpses for dissection. These two men, miserably clad, called on the dean of a medical college in New York.

"'We are both on the verge of starvation, sir,' the spokesman said. 'We are well on in years, and it is clear that we haven't much longer to live. Would you care to purchase our bodies for your dissecting room?'

"The dean hesitated.

"'It is an odd proposition,' he muttered.

"'But it is occasionally done,' said the spokesman in an eager voice.

"'Well,' said the dean, 'we might arrange it. What price do you ask?'

"'Over in Philadelphia,' said the spokesman, 'they gave us $40.'"—New York Tribune.

Not So Bad as She Feared.

"George," she whispered as she crept a little closer and placed her head against his left hand second story vest pocket—"George, I want to ask you a question, a very important one. Why do you allude to papa as a pirate? Surely you must have some good reason for doing so?"

"I have, indeed!" responded George, with a dreamy, faraway look in his eyes. "Pirates board people, you know, and I expect your father, if my plans work all right, to eventually board me."

"Oh, how clever you are, George! Do you know, I was awfully afraid you were going to get off that ancient chestnut about his being such an old freebooter, and I'm so glad you didn't, because all the fellows I've had have said that, and I was longing for something new."

One of the most beautiful natural rock carvings in the world is the Southern Cross, on the island of Grand Manan, in the bay of Fundy. It stands at the head of a ledge of rocks jutting into the bay from the foot of one of the immense cliffs at the southern end of the Grand Manan. Its shape is that of an almost perfect cross.

Corroborated.

"Though many people think so who hear me play," said the long haired amateur, with studied carelessness, "I have no intention of becoming a professional musician. I play merely to kill time."

"I knew that as soon as I heard you," enigmatically replied one of his listeners.—Kansas City Independent.

Said What She Meant.

"Oh, I am so awfully ashamed of myself!" said Edith Jones to her dearest girl chum. "When Henry proposed to me last night I intended to say, 'So sudden!' but I quite lost my head and exclaimed, 'At last!'"

An Exception.

"Animals," said the teacher, "frequently become attached to people, but plants never do."

"How about burs, teacher?" queried the small boy at the foot of the class.—Chicago News.

Hard to Tell.

Miss Oldgirl—Do you think Mr. Snifkins is sincere when he writes that he loves me more than tongue can tell? Miss Peachblow—I dare say. He's tongue tied, you know.

MADE THREATS OF REVENGE

Convict's Name Was Signed to Letters Threatening Destruction

TO MACHINISTS HOME

Thought to be Plan of Revenge for Convicts Unrequitted Love and Incarceration in Penitentiary.

LETTERS WRITTEN IN DISGUISE.

Sharon, Pa., Oct. 15.—A desperate plan of revenge for unrequited love and for incarceration in the penitentiary, was revealed yesterday when tenants of the houses of Mrs. A. E. Wagner in Jefferson avenue and River street, received letters signed with the name of Frank Perry, now in the Western penitentiary, warning them them that the houses would be blown up with dynamite.

An attack on the Jefferson avenue house occupied by Charles Morris, a machinist, last midnight, a wild chase after the men in the dark and the exchange of several shots, indicate that the writer of the letter is in earnest. The police are trying the fiends.

Perry was sent to Mercer jail in April 1907, for an attack on Mrs. Alice Barnes, daughter of Mrs. Wagner, with whom he is infatuated. Before his case came to trial he assisted several prisoners to escape and for this he was sentenced to two years and a half to the penitentiary. He still has 18 months to serve.

Both letters were postmarked at Sharon. They were delivered yesterday afternoon, one going to Morrris and the other to Mrs. Rachel Moorhead 48 River street, who also occupies a house belonging to Mrs. Wagner. The missives are in a disguised hand and are almost identical in text. The Morris letter was addressed "To the people living in Mrs. Wagner's house on Jefferson avenue."

Both families upon receipt of the letters were alarmed. They notified the police to watch the properties and to be sure that his place would be protected. Morris remained up until late last night, with a revolver near at hand. It was just midnight when he heard some one moving about in the yard. An instant later a noise at a window attracted his attention. Quietly he let the window blind up, disclosing faces next the pane The men ran and Morris gave chase, firing at them and getting several shots in return. By the time the police arrived the prowlers had disappeared.

The letters today were turned to Postmaster Ewing and postoffice inspectors are expected here tomorrow from Pittsburgh to take up the case. The handwriting is fairly good and the letters as a whole appear as though they were written by some one of education who was trying to hide the fact. Penitentiary officials have been notified to sweat Perry in an endeavor to learn if he is the author of the letters, or whether some outsider has been used as a tool to carry out the convict's plan for revenge.

Darius Secrist.

After an illness of several weeks due to the infirmities of old age, Darius Secrist, died at the home of his son, George W. Secrist, in Millheim, Tuesday morning, aged 78 years and 2 days. Since the death of his wife several years ago he has been making his home with his sons in Johnsonburg and Millheim. He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served in Company E, Seventh Pennsylvania cavalry. The following children survive: William and Charles, of Johnsonburg; George W., of Millheim; Mrs. Carrie McCloskey of Ridgway.

The remains were taken to Lock Haven today and funeral services will be held there Friday. Interment will be made in the "Soldiers' Ring" in the Highland cemetery at Lock Haven.

To Abolish School Tax.

Efforts will be made at the coming session of the Legislature, by the Pennsylvania State Association for the abolition of the school tax, to secure the adoption by that body of a bill imposing upon the state the expense for school teachers' salaries and for text books throughout the whole state. The basis of the argument of those who are working for the bill is that the state now has a surplus of $16,000,000 which it is said is being allowed to accumulate for the benefit of the banks, who pay only two per cent. on it. They say it should be distributed back to the people. Theodore P. Rynder, of Milesburg, recently a candidate for legislature, is a member of the State Association.

Goldsmith's Actor.

Lord Nugent was one evening very eloquent to Goldsmith in praise of M. (a bad actor) "But, my lord," said Goldsmith, "you must allow he treads the stage very ill—he waddles."

"Waddles?" said Lord Nugent.

"Yes, he waddles like a goose. Why, you know we call him Goose M. Well, and then, you know, when he endeavors to express strong passion he bellows."

"Bellows?" said Lord Nugent.

"To be sure he does—bellows like a bull. Why, we call him Bull M. Well. Then," continued Goldsmith, pursuing his triumph, "his voice breaks, and he croaks."

"Croaks?" said Lord Nugent.

"Why, the fellow croaks like a frog. We call him Frog M."

"But M. is a good actor."

"Why, yes," said Goldsmith, "barring the goose and the bull and the frog and a few other things I could mention, and, not wishing to speak ill of my neighbors, I will allow M. is a good actor."—"Memoirs of the Earl of Nugent."

The Gypsy Life.

"Just as soon as my husband and I have $500 saved up besides our fare we are going back to England," said a woman player. "Then we are going to buy one of those gypsy wagons they have over there. They are too awfully jolly for words, don't you know. They are quite wide, have bunks, a cunning little kitchen and sitting room. You wander through the country all day; then at night you stop, cook your supper, sit under the trees and sleep out in the open or in the wagon, just as you choose. Many of my artist and theatrical friends have them and just wander from place to place. It is an ideal way to live; beats houseboats or bungalows. If you have ever slept out in the open and watched the stars over your head you feel smothered in a bedroom. I played through Australia, and we went from place to place in a big wagon, sleeping out of doors at night."—New York Times.

Ballooning Among the Clouds.

It has been my lot to see in arctic regions some hundreds of thousands of icebergs close at hand, and I have always believed them to be the most beautiful objects on earth, but the clouds of the sky, close at hand, are almost as beautiful. If you mount above one of these majestic things, swiftly overtopping one by one its folds and wreaths, and if remembering how high it is you look down and see only small green patches of earth through holes in the cloud carpet below, you have a little thrill of conception of how lonely a man would feel falling away down there and not being able to see the spot where he must alight. It is a safe little thrill, however. You know that you are not going to fall. Such dizziness as some persons feel in standing near great heights on the earth is almost unknown in ballooning.—Albert White Vorse in Success Magazine.

Six His Limit.

To the man who has a horse to sell considerable leeway is allowed in the matter of setting forth the animal's merits. "I've got the very horse you want," said Gideon Lane, the Bushby livery stable keeper, to one of the summer residents.

"He has no bad tricks?" queried the gentleman. "Safe for the family?"

"Lauzee, yes," returned Mr. Lane heartily. "Any lady can drive him, and half a dozen children could get on his back and he'd never notice 'em. Not a trick to his name."

"Ah," said the summer resident, "I don't wish a horse without any spirit."

"Spirit!" echoed Mr. Lane. "Well, you just ought to see him on circus day, that's all. And I'll tell you confidentially 'twouldn't be well for too many people to get on that horse at once."—Youth's Companion.

The Jews and Thirteen.

Commenting on the thirteen superstitions in the Oesterreichishe Wochenschnift, Jacob E. Ehrlich, a Jewish writer, says: "The number thirteen is surely not a bad one for us. The holy writ tells of the thirteen attributes of the Most High, and we have thirteen feast days in each year. Our great arch enemy, Haman, was hanged on the 13th of Abas. The thirteenth birthday of our sons is a day of joy because on that day the child becomes a member of the religious community. The dream of Joseph was of thirteen—the sun, the moon and eleven stars—and Jacob had thirteen children."

Upward.

"Is Mike Clancy here?" asked the visitor to the quarry after the premature explosion.

"No, sir," replied Costigan. "He's gone."

"For good?"

"Well, sor, he wint in that direction."

Sarcastic.

Guest (impatiently)—I say, waiter, how long have you been employed here? Waiter—'Bout a week, sir. Guest—Oh, is that all? Then I must have given my order to some other waiter.

On the Safe Side.

A young Scotch farmer who cannot read, came into a small country city directly after an anti-spitting ordinance had come into effect, and, as fate would have it, was walking directly toward the single policeman which the place boasted when the period of release for a copious amount of tobacco juice became due. The profuse squirt lighted with a splash directly, and the Scot was subsequently taken in charge by the copper and hustled before the police magistrate.

When told the nature of the offense he warmly protested ignorance of the law, but was informed that this did not shield him. At the magistrate's advice he plead guilty and was fined $5 and costs. This totaled $7.50.

With painful dignity and the young kiltie drew forth a wallat and extracted therefrom a $10 bill, which he placed upon the desk and turned to leave the place.

"Wait a moment, my friend," called the officer. "Here is your change."

"Nae, mon. I winna tak' it," coolly replied the Scotchman. "I mae wiss to blaw my nose before I lea'e toun."—Judge.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Will Destroy Wooden Cars.

Notwithstanding the predictions of some railroad managers that there will be a car shortage before next spring and that comparatively few orders have been placed for new equipment, many of the small wooden freight cars will be destroyed. On the Pennsylvania system alone it is estimated that fully 10,000 freight cars were destroyed last year. It is expected that a much larger number will be sent to the scrap heap this year. Owing to the cost of repairing disabled cars executive officials have decided to destroy many of the wooden cars.

The disabled wooden cars will be transferred to one of the yard tracks, where all metal parts will be removed and the remainder of the car will be burned. The use of heavier equipment has resulted in the railroad taking up plans for the installation of heavier machinery in all the principal car repair shops. Light machinery, formerly used in repairing wooden equipment, will be transferred to small shops along branch lines, where a large portion of the old equipment is now in use.

Woman Thrashed Tramp.

Mrs. John Snyder, of Riverside, Luzerne county, who weighs 275 pounds, mostly muscle, dusted the roadside with a tramp who had attacked her. When she was done with the man he looked as though he had been in a wreck. The tramp went to the Snyder home and, after having been given something to eat, discovered that Mrs. Snyder was alone, and attacked her. She knocked the fellow down, picked him up again, ran him to the road and held him with one hand while she pounded him with the other. Neighbors, hearing the man's shrieks, ran to the scene and wanted to lynch the man, but Mrs. Snyder insisted that the punishment she had given was severe enough and he was released.

Accurate Campaign News.

The coming month in the political world is going to be interesting. The great national parties are working hard for supremacy and both are confident of victory at the polls in November. The two candidates of their respective parties are touring the country making speeches and discussing their policies. Every citizen and voter should know what is going on and this you can easily do by reading "The Philadelphia Press," which is printing all the political news fairly and accurately. If you cannot secure a copy of "The Press" from your newsdealer or carriers send your order to "The Philadelphi Press." Seventh and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia.

A Brotherly Love.

Frank Clark, of Louisiana recently displayed an act of brotherly love that is seldom equaled. The farm of the estate of W. W. Clark on Marsh Creek near Blanchard was sold by W. Edgar Clark, agent by power of attorney for the heirs. Frank Clark, of Alexandria, Louisiana, one of the sons of W. W. Clark, was the highest bidder and accordingly the farm was sold to him for $5,100. Before he and his family returned to the south Mr. Clark gave his brother J. Irvin Clark, who has been occupying the farm for years by rental, a deed for the entire farm.

"Mem-sahib," asked a young East Indian girl of her English mistress, "why do you wear those sad colors? I don't like them."

"I am in mourning, Lattoo. It is the custom of English ladies."

"But black is the color of night, mem-sahib, and yet you believe that when you die you go to heaven at once. Then why not be glad for your friends who die and wear colors such as we see in birds and flowers and falling water when the sun shines? God doesn't make your colors. Ah, well, Christians are strange people!"—From "The Indian Alps."

A Woman's Country.

France today is the most woman ridden country and also the most peaceful, prosperous and contented. The women rule by charm.—Stormy Petrel.

EDITORIAL.

THE fact that Chicago won the world's base ball championship isn't going to help the campaign any.

"A fire, started presumably from a spark from a passing locomotive" is a familiar line these days in all exchanges. It suggests the necessity for providing some means of preventing this costly accidents.

A Western Pensylvania farmer had the sad experience of buying a horse for $2.50 and having it drop dead on the way home. It would seem that a good serviceable horse ought to be worth at least $4.98 and that any person who buys below this rate, must be prepared to take the risk of the animal's early demise. The horse bargain hunter needs nothing so much as good horse sense.

IT looks as if Mr. R. B. Taylor will be compelled to purchase a ticket to Harrisburg one of these days as the people of the county will delegate him to represent thim in the legislature.

IN speaking of W. Harrison Walker the DuBois Express says "His ability is well known and recognized at home." They have slightly misstated it, as Mr. Walker will find out. His ability is too well known to be recognized.

THE office of county commissioner is an important one and the Republicans this year have two candidates who are unassailable in every way. The voters of the county will make no mistake by placing Zimmerman and Woodring in the commissioners office.

THE Republicans could not have sound a more worthy young man for recorder than Wm Brown. The Democrats are trying to defeat him by howling incompetenco, but "Billy" is fully capable of filling the office and is going to receive a handsome majority of votes.

WILLIAM E. Hurley, the Republicrn candidate for Sheriff, is gaining strength every day. He is a genial whole-souled fellow who would made a pleasant and obliging public official. As a campaigner he has his opponent Fred Smith skinned a mile.

EVERY time Congressman Barclay comes to Bellefonte the Watchman sings little song about the local politicians trying to "pull his leg." What is hurting the Watchman most is the fact that Candidate Walker has gone over to Clearfield county and hired an independent paper to exploit his "good qualities."

THE Democratic papers are making a great howl about voting for the farmer candidates on their tickets. They do not say a word about Farmers Harry Zimmerman and Jacob Woodring, two of Centre county's sturdy tillers of the soil, who are candidates for County Commissioners on the Republican ticket as opposed to John Dunlap and C. A. Weaver, neither of whom are farmers.

WHILE a candidate for office cannot reasonably expect to receive a third term in this Republican county, it is always the custom to give him a second term, particularly because during the second term, he is more familiar with the duties or the position, and can fulfill them efficiently. Mr. Earle C. Tuten has been Register only one term, and as he has shown himself a capable and obliging official the voters would do well to re-elect him for a second term.

Stands on His Record.

Numerous friends have asked Register Earle C. Tuten why he did not resent the unwarranted attack made upon him by the Watchman. He stated that he was willing to stand on his record and left that for others to do. Here is what our esteemed contempory, the Keystone Gazette says:

The Democratic Watchman last week made a cruel, unprovoked and untruthful attack on its neighbor, Earle C. Tuten. It portrayed him as utterly good for nothing; declaring that he was a nonentity and devoit of anything that entitles him to be called a man. This is the kind of literature these journals set out before their readers, expecting thereby to belittle men in the estimation of those who do not know him. The real truth is that Mr. Tuten is an exemplary citizen, a man whose kindly disposition will win the favor of any man is capable and willing to recognize true manhood. This is evidenced by his popularity as an officer and the many substantial friends he has in this community. It will not hurt Mr. Tuten to be abused by the Democratic papers. If they were to compliment him people would easily be led into the belief that he had done some dirty trick in order to win their favor. When they can't use a man they'll abuse him.

JOKING WITH MARRIAGE

The other day a young couple went through with a form of marriage before an alderman, and as a license figured in the little joke the couple wake up to find that they are really married. There has been much scurrying around on the part of these practical jokers to dissolve the bonds into which they had plunged themselves as an expression of their idea of a joke. Of course, no one sympathizes with two supposedly sensible people who would do so foolish a thing. But the serious side of the incident is that it indicates a widespread attitude toward the important and solemn rite of marriage. Now if some of these jokers could be persuaded to shoot themselves, just as a joke on the subject of death, perhaps the social and moral balance might be struck. There are thousands of marriages contracted with far less reason and sense, however, than was exhibited by these blithe young jokers. It is the same spirit that invites the marriage after a few hours' acquaintance, or the marriage by correspondence bureau. It is because so many people regard marriage as a joke that it turns out so frequently to be a tragedy. Without encouraging mere pious cant, it may be affirmed in all seriousness that marriage is a much more serious proposition than death.

THE UNSUCCESSFUL HUNTER

Laugh not in scornful glee at the hunter who returneth from the woods with empty game bag and woeful face. Remove that sneering smile when you meet the nimrod, returning weary and disgusted with his trip to the mountains. Sympathy, not scorn, should be extended to the man who, mayhaps, has tramped through miles of bracken and brush in a vain effort to secure his lawful share of the game which infests the fastnesses of forest and field. Pity the man who carries a heavy gun all day long and totes a load of woe home with him at night. His case is one which ought to appeal to the tender mercies of humanity.

When you feel like expanding your mouth in a laugh of ghoulish glee at the hunter with the empty game bag think of the times you also came home from the woods sneaking down the dark alleyways to avoid public gaze and with nothing but sore feet and burrs in your hair as a reward for your venture. Remember how you felt when, after pedestrianating among the bushes and brambles, without even seeing a chipmunk, you returned with a determination never to be fool enough to go hunting again. Because of your own experience you ought to have some consideration for the hunter of the present day who has followed your example with similar results.

TERRENCE V. Powderly recently asserted that there has been benefit to this country in the return of so many aliens to their homes in Europe. The benefit which Mr. Powderly sees is not that the country is rid of them either temporarily or permantly, but in the fact that each of the 654,346 persons who departed between July 1907 and May 1908 is a missionary, and that into "almost every nook and corner of Europe has gone some apostle of Americanism whose precepts and practices, however humble and insignificant they may be cannot but work for good." They will spread the influen America wheaever they go. America need not be afraid of immigation, for we can take care of all the good aliens that come to our shore. Mr. Powderly is familiar with the immigration service and in a position to generalize on this subject.

To what extent the alien who goes home leavens the foreign lump no one can tell with certanity.

VOTE for farmer G. G. Fink for County Treasurer. He is deserving of your support and influence.

—Save your old clothes for the Rummage Sale.

Ninth Fall Conference

his theme the words of Lowell, "Let us aspire." His address was of an evangelistic nature and he exhorted his hearers to inquire into their soul's condition, his object being to get the men to think of their spiritual condition in life. Prof. Green is a very fluent talker and always well versed on the subject which he has under consideration, which created a great interest in each of the addresses he made during the conference. At the same hour as the men's meeting Geo. B. Reimensnyder conducted a boy's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building. Mr. Reimensnyder takes great interest in the boys and his remarks to the Bellefonte boys on this occasion were very appropriate.

In the evening union farewell services were held in the Presbyterian church at 7.45. The State College quartet was present again and sang several beautiful quartets. Several of the members of the quartet also sang touching solos. Mr. Reimensnyder read the report of the committee on resolutions in which they thanked the citizen of Bellefonte for their hospitality in entertaining the delegates to the conference, the ladies for the excellent banquet Friday evening, the churches for the freedom of their edifices, Dr. and Mrs. Sparks for the courteous entertainment at State College, the press of the town with mention of the Daily News for the special interest it took in the conference. The church was packed to its fullest capacity on the occasion of the third address of the day by Prof. Green. So earnest is Prof. Green in his remarks that hearing him once only creates a hunger for hearing him again. His theme for the evening talk was "A workman that need not be ashamed," and in the time that was allotted him the speaker urged all who are engaged in the Master's work to perform their work in such a manner that they need not be ashamed of their christian life. This the closing session of the conference was a more largely attended than any other.

Mr. S. G. Gearhart, the president of the district was well pleased with the success of the conference and stated that he believed this would be the banner conference of the year. With the excellent addresses that were made and the interesting papers read this cannot but be one of the most helpful of conferences yet held. The delegates returned to their homes filled with a greater zeal for the work they have to do, and with a fuller realization of the responsibility involved in the work. The delegates to the ninth fall conference will ever remember their visit to Bellefonte on this occasion and Bellefonte is the better for their having been in our midst.

A CHARMING YOUNG MOTHER SAYS:

"I Want To Recommend Pe-ru-na To Mothers."

MRS. E. W. BROOKS.

Weak, Exhausted, Pe-ru-na Gave New Life.

Mrs. E. W. Brooks, 5415 S. Steele St., South Tacoma, Wash., writes:

"I want to recommend Peruna to mothers. When my little girl came, I felt very weak and exhausted, and it seemed that I could not regain my strength.

"My mother bought me a bottle of Peruna, after I had tried several other much advertised remedies without relief. I had little faith, as I was very weak, but within a week after I had commenced taking Peruna I was like a different woman.

"New life and vitality seemed to come each day until in a few weeks I was in fine health and a happy woman. Thanks to your splendid medicine, I have enjoyed good health for several years. I always keep Peruna on hand, as a few doses will set me right when I am feeling badly."

Catarrh of Ears.

Mrs. G. W. Heard, Hempstead, Texas, writes in regard to her son Carl: "My son's ears had been affected since he was a baby. He seemed to have risings in his head. He would be very fretful for several days, then his ears would run profusely what appeared to be corruption.

"The last year I thought he had almost lost his hearing and had a local physician treating him for about six weeks. He pronounced him well and for a few weeks he was not troubled, but since that time the discharge from his ears was almost constant and very offensive.

"Finally I began giving him Peruna and Lacupia, and after he had taken two bottles of the Lacupia he was entirely cured.

"I cannot praise Lacupia and Peruna enough."

People Who Object to Liquid Medicines Should Buy Peruna Tablets

Juvenile Court.

The boys, Raphael Rairdan and Thompson Spangler, both of whom resided near Eagleville station, were tried in juvenile court Monday. The charge brought against them was larceny. For some time they have been riding the freigh trains passing their homes and have been giving people along the railroad a great deal of trouble and on several occasions threw lumps of coal through their windows. For some time they have eluded the railroad officers, but on Friday young Rairdan was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Fred Reese and on Monday Spangler was brought to Bellefonte. Rairdan was the mascot of the Howard base ball team during the season Both are bright boys but they could not be induced to school. After hearing the evidence against them they were sentenced to be sent to the industrial school at Glen Mills, Deleware county. There they will be taught a trade and may yet be useful men.

Nitro-Glycerine Factory Exploded

The Happer nitro-glycerine factory at Kaneville, near Oil City, was demolished by an explosion Saturday afternoon and four persons were killed, two men named Peter McGuire and Daniel Feely, and two boys, Arthur and Carl Feely.

The two men were employed as treaters at the factory and at the hour when the explosion occured were generally through mixing the explosive and filling it into cans. It is supposed that one dropped a measure on one of the cans which set off the entire output of the day, 460 quarts. About 10 pounds of skin, bones and hair was all that could be found of the two men. The bodies of the boys were found about 300 feet away from the factory and every bone in their bodies broken. They were on their way to the factory to walk home with their father when the accident occured.

Drouth Dangers.

A water famine threatens that portion of Bethlehem supplied from the borough spring which has served the town since 1741. The spring is gradually failing and there are only fourteen inches of water in the reservoir. In case of a fire considerable property would be at the mercy of the flames. No rain has fallen there for nearly three weeks and that section is more afflicted than it was during the September drouth.

At Scranton the drouth is more severe than at any time heretofore. W. W. Scranton, president of the water company says there is only a month's supply in sight. A milk famine is threatened as the farmers are preferring to let their cows go dry than buy feed to supplant the parched grass.

Thomas Taylor

Thomas Taylor, one of the oldest and most respected colored citizens of Bellefonte, died at his home on Penn street on Thursday morning and was buried Saturday afternoon. His death was the result of an operation which he had undergone several months ago.

Thomas Taylor was the son of John and Nancy Taylor and was born at Saltsburg, Indiana county, Penna. on Dec. 17, 1838. He served as a servant to Genl. Gallagher in the Civil war until the fall of 1863. He enlisted as a private in Co. D. 2nd U. S. colored infantry, being honorably discharged at the close of the war.

"Tom" Taylor as he was familiarly known one of the most exemplary of our colored citizens. As an ambitious and industrious man he was respected by all who knew him. He is survived by his widow.

That the leading medical writes and teacher of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic affections, and all catarrhal effections and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases os catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases except consumption accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teaches as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College, Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John. M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof Edwin M. Hale M. Penna Leads in Real Estate.

Pennsylvania now leads the Union in the amount of personal property owned within its boarders and returned as subject to taxation. The report of such property for 1908 was completed for the board of revenue commissioners and shows that in spite of the business depression the personal property reported increased almost $92,000,000 over the aggregate of 1907 which was the high water mark, and that the total of $1,104,513,428.94. No other states comes near touching such a figure of property returned, New York being fully $200,000,000 behind Pennsylvania.

The announcement of these figures, which were submitted to the board of revenue commissioners by their clerk, Christian W. Meyers, caused astonishment on Capitol hill, and Auditor Gen Young in whose department the figures were complied, stated that they broke all records.

The gain of $81,915,131 60 made last year ran the total up to $1,012,534,683 40, establishing a record both for a year's gain and total, but this year the amount added in the returns from the counties touched $91,978,745 54.

Sues Pennsy for $25,000.

Claiming damages to the amount of $25,000 against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, William H. Berryman, of Williamsport, formerly of Pitcairn, Allegheny county, has brought suit in the local courts alleging that on or about October 3, 1907, he was a passenger on a Pennsylvania train en route from Williamsport to Pitcairn, and that when he alighted at the latter place two Pennsylvania Railroad detectives followed and assaulted him, one of them, whose name he believes is Bloodsoe, shooting him with a revolver.

One or more bullets, Berryman avers, passed into or through his abdomen and others into his thigh and legs, inflicting serious injuries.

Reunion of the 110th

The 25th annual reunion of the survivors of the 110th regiment P. V. I. convened in Tyrone Friday morning, the meeting being presided over by President James Krebs of Milesburg. At roll call only thirty-two out of the twelve hundred that answered in the days of 61-65 responded. Interesting reports and communications were read during the session. Thirteen members of the company passed away during the past year and appropriate resolutions in respect of them were drafted. Officers were elected for the ensuing year and Bellefonte chosen as the next place of meeting, which will be on the third Friday of October 1909. An interesting campfire was held in the evening.

—At a tea table conference held at the Y. M. C. A building Tuesday evening preliminary steps were taken toward reorganizing the Association Bible classes for the work of the present season. Last season over thirty men completed the second years studies of the International course, so for their sake Dr. J. A. Platts will this year conduct the third year's studies of this course. For the sake of those who desire to take up the course of studies at its beginning, other classes will be formed for beginners. It is hoped that over fifty men and boys will be found in these studies the coming season.

Wanted—A number of second hand washboilers that will do for ash receivers at the Y. M. C. A. We will pay for the same according to the condition of the boiler. Here is a chance for the boys to make a little money.

Weak Heart Action

There are certain nerves that control the action of the heart. When they become weak, the heart action is impaired. Short breath, pain around heart, choking sensation, palpitation, fluttering, feeble or rapid pulse, and other distressing symptoms follow. Dr. Miles Heart Cure is a medicine especially adapted to the needs of these nerves and the muscular structure of the heart itself. It is a strengthening tonic that brings speedy relief. Try it.

"For years I suffered with what I thought was stomach trouble, when the doctors told me I had heart trouble. I had tried many remedies, when the Dr. Miles' almanac came into my hands, and I concluded to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I have taken three bottles, and now I am not suffering at all. I am cured and this medicine did it. I write this in the hope that it will attract the attention of others who suffer as I did."

SERIOUS FIRE NEAR CRESSON

Early Sunday Morning Blaze Cost Lives of Four.

THE MOTHER ESCAPED

Three Children Were Cremated and a Rescuer Was Killed by a Falling Chimney.

AND ANOTHER WOMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Cresson, Pa., Oct. 18.—A fire that destroyed a small frame dwelling house, midway between Cresson and Summit occupied by Mrs. Luke Delaney and family at an early hour this morning, was the most fearful in results that has occured in this vicinity in some years. The old structure, dried out by the drouth, burned like a tinder and before being discovered to be on fire the woman and children were caught like rats in a trap. The woman only escaped by leaping from a window, but her children were cremated. One other life was snapped out by a falling chimney and another person is likely to die of injuries received by being caught beneath the pile of brick.

The dead:

Henry Delaney, aged 14 years.
Gerald S. Delaney, aged 9 years.
Esther L. Delaney, aged 18 months.
Andrew Nagle, aged 16 years.

The injured:

Mrs. Luke Delaney, seriously injured.
Wilson Judge, probably fatally injured.

The fire which destroyed the house and which will probably result in the wiping out of the entire family, started about 2 30 o'clock on the first floor. The wood was dry as punk and burned like tinder and the flames gained such headway that the entire first floor was ablaze and escape from the second floor cut off before the occupants discovered the fire. All manner of escape were cut off except the windows and the little family were caught in the attic room.

Mrs. Delaney, wild and frantic, threw herself from one of the windows to the ground, some fifteen feet below, and alighted in such a manner as to sustain injuries that rendered her completely helpless. With the cries of her children ringing in her ears she was unable to render aid other than to call to them to jump for their lives. None of them heeded her and they perished in the flames. The woman's cries sounded an alarm that brought others to the scene and soon the entire neighborhood was aroused. The house was doomed and all hope of rescuing the unfortunate children from the burning structure was passed. Water was scarce, but a bucket brigade was formed to fight the fire and worked diligently to extinguish it. The fire burned itself out in about an hours' time and the firefighters turned their effort to extinguishing the smouldering ruins in order that the bodies might be recovered.

The news of the fire soon spread and at daylight many persons were at the scene, and began searching for the bodies. Among them was Andrew Nagle and Wilson Judge.

About 6 o'clock, the chimney of the house fell and the boys were caught under it. Nagle was instantly killed, the falling brick crushing his skull. Judge was knocked down and sustained a fracture of the skull and broken leg.

Ringing the Breakfast Bell.

An American family who had experienced the difficulty of obtaining and retaining the services of a reliable kitchen girl while on a visit to Ireland became acquainted with a promising young girl and brought her back home with them.

In a few weeks she was installed in her new home and made acquainted with her new duties. Among other things she was told that it was customary when breakfast was ready to be served to ring the breakfast bell. Her "all right, mum," came in such a confident tone that her mistress gave the matter no further thought.

The following morning at 8 o'clock the family were rudely awakened by the violent ringing of the front door-bell. Thinking that a messenger must be waiting with some unusual message, the gentleman of the house did not stop to dress, but hurried down in his night robe and opened the door. The new kitchen girl awaited him, her face beaming with a beautiful smile of triumph. Bowing low, she said in her rich Irish brogue, "Breakfast is ready, sor."—Los Angeles Times.

Diamond Cutting.

It is said that before the fourteenth century no one knew how to cut and polish diamonds. They were esteemed for their marvelous hardness, but not greatly admired for beauty. There is a tradition that a journeyman jeweler in Flanders, Louis Van Berghem, discovered the art of cutting diamond with diamond. But it is probable that he only made some notable advance in the art since associations of diamond cutters had existed in France and Flanders from the fourteenth century. Louis Van Berghem's most famous achievement was the cutting and polishing of a huge diamond belonging to Charles the Bold. Charles was so delighted with the result that he rewarded the artist liberally and declared that the diamond would now serve him as a bedroom lamp. This jewel, which was found on Charles' body after the battle of Nancy, is still in existence and celebrated under the name of the Nancy diamond.—Youth's Companion.

He Gave Them Latin.

Once, before he was president, Andrew Jackson was making a political speech in some obscure campaign in a backwoods Tennessee district. His address was very well received, but somehow there did not seem to be exactly the enthusiasm wanted for the occasion. Having vainly tried to "warm up" his hearers, the general was just going to sit down when the chairman of the meeting plucked him by the coattail. "For the Lord's sake, general, give 'em some Latin!" he hurriedly whispered in the speaker's ear. "They won't think you know anything at all if you quit like this. Smith, the opposition candidate, talked Latin to 'em half the evening."

Old Hickory rose to the situation. Advancing to the edge of the platform, he extended his arm and thundered out: "E pluribus unum! Sic semper tyrannis! Habeas corpus!"

The audience roared with applause. The credit of the orator was saved, and the Jackson ticket won out in that county.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

A Woman's Health

Is a heritage too sacred to be experimented with. For her peculiar and delicate ailments only medicines of known composition and which contain no alcohol, narcotics, or other harmful or habit-forming drugs should be employed. The one medicine which fulfills all these requirements is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy with a record of over forty years of cures to recommend it; a remedy, the makers of which print its formula on every bottle-wrapper and attest its completeness and correctness under oath; a remedy devised and adapted to woman's delicate constitution by an educated physician—an experienced specialist in woman's diseases; a remedy, every ingredient of which has received the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar diseases; a remedy which has more bona-fide cures to its credit than any other sold by druggists for woman's special requirements. It is not given away in the form of "trial bottles" to be experimented with, but is sold at a fair price by all dealers in medicines.

Delicate, weak, nervous women should especially shun the use of alcoholic medicines which, from their stimulating and exhilerating effects may seem, for a time, to do good, but which from the inevitable effects of the alcohol in shrinking up the red corpuscles of the blood are sure to do great and lasting harm in the long run. Besides they beget a craving for stimulants which is most deplorable.

Only invigorating and nerve strengthening effects can follow the use of this famous medicine for women. It can not possibly do harm in any state or condition of the system. It has been carefully adapted to woman's needs by an experienced physician—a specialist in their diseases. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvis, backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has gnawing feeling in stomach, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a weakening disagreeable drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Perscription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic, "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition, as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and has a record of over forty years of cures and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as strictly private and sacredly confidential and all answers are returned in plain, sealed envelopes. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 81 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Heart Disease and Sudden Death.

A man rushing to catch a train the other day fell dead. In this instance it is fair to assume that the strain on a weak heart might fairly be held responsible. In view of the fierce competition in life and the undue strain to which the masses of men are subjected it is of the highest importance that people known to be affected with heart disease should exercise the greatest care as to overtaxing their physical strength in view of the danger of sudden death, instances of which are so common today. Inasmuch as few people are aware of having weak hearts, a safe rule for all men over forty is to avoid the perils of haste and undue strain, as in lifting, rushing, etc. Another important factor, many people over forty indulging in excessive eating are in danger of arterio-sclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, which results in sudden death from apoplexy, kidney or heart disease. To sum the matter up, people over forty must limit their table indulgence and avoid sudden and undue haste or strain if desirous of attaining a ripe old age.—New York Herald.

Made the Most of His Hats.

When Lord Milner held his first reception at Pretoria the officers and legislators were given to understand that frock coats and tall hats were expected of them. There was only one shop in the place in which silk hats were sold, and this had but four of them. The Transvaal legislators rushed off in a body to buy these four, but the hatter, not being mad, saw his opportunity in their extremity. He knew there was no time to get hats from anywhere else, so he resolved not to sell. He offered to let them out on hire at the rate of 10 shillings for ten minutes. His shop was close at hand. Four gentlemen could present themselves before his excellency. After ten minutes they must silently steal away and hand over their hired finery to another panting quartet. It was done, and the hatter still repeats dreamily as he recalls the moment of his life, "It would not have been fair to have sold them, not fair to my customers and not fair to myself."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Public Penance.

In former times persons guilty of grievous and notorious offenses were required to make open confession and, further, to make satisfaction for the scandal given by their bad example by doing penance publicly in a white sheet in their parish church. The sheet was used to show clearly to every one which was the offender. The last time that public penance was done in an English church was on Sunday evening, July 30, 1882, when a man named Hartree, in the church of All Saints, East Clevedon, made an open confession of immorality and promised to perform the penance thus imposed on him by the vicar. No white sheet was used on this occasion. The last case in which one was used appears to have been one in St. Bridget's church, Chester, in 1851, but on that occasion the penance was not public, the church door being locked. In the previous year, however, public penance in a white sheet was done in a country church in Essex, and a similar thing occurred in Ditton church, near Cambridge, in 1849.—Stray Stories.

An Unexpected Check.

A man who won a reputation for cool daring and almost eccentric fearlessness along a thousand miles of the southwestern border was A. L. Parrott, at one time a sergeant in McNelly's company of Texan rangers. One night in 1875, about six months after Parrott left the state service, he was sitting in a house in a little town in southwest Texas playing chess with a friend. It was a warm night, and the chessboard was on a table close to an open window. Parrott had the white men. His queen was in a direct line with the black king, but a black knight was between the two pieces. It was Parrott's move. Suddenly there was a sharp report outside, and a bullet whistled in through the window, hit the black knight and buried itself in the wall. Parrott had been bending over the board, and the bullet was evidently intended for his head. But for a few seconds he did not stir. He saw the black knight suddenly vanish. Then in his peculiar drawling, hesitating way he said, "Check!"

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds, it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

If a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Section 8. The said courts in the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny respectively shall, from time to time, in turn, detail one or more of their judges to hold the courts of oyer and terminer and the courts of quarter sessions of the peace of said counties, in such manner as may be directed by law: Provided, That in the county of Philadelphia the General Assembly shall have power to establish a separate court, consisting of not more than four judges, which shall have exclusive jurisdiction in criminal cases and in such other matters as may be provided by law.

Trophies of the Chase.

In the days when buffalo still roamed the plains of Kansas in countless numbers a great many hunting parties came over from Europe to have a hand in their slaughter. One party was composed of a Frenchman named Auguste Rouzand, the first husband of Christine Nilsson, the prima donna, and an Englishman, a Mr. Blackmore, from London. They arrived at Dodge City one day in the fall with a carload of equipment, including every sort of delicacy that the market afforded and several large trunks full of bright new butcher knives. A detachment of the Sixth cavalry from Fort Dodge was detailed to accompany them, and probably no command ever fared better than that one did. The Englishman shot a few buffalo, and the soldiers slaughtered them by the hundreds. But the Frenchman didn't kill one. Instead, as fast as the animals were shot he would take one of his brand new butcher knives, plunge it into the slain animal until it was smeared with blood, wrap it carefully in tissue paper and put it back in the trunk as a trophy of the chase to exhibit when he got back to Paris as proof of his mighty prowess as a hunter. That was his idea of sport.—Kansas City Star.

Thread Used In Surgery.

Are you aware that the modern surgeon employs in his work dozens of different kinds of thread for sewing up cuts and wounds? Among them are kangaroo tendons, horsehair, silk and very fine silver wire. Many of these threads are intended to hold for a certain number of days and then naturally break away. The short, tough tendons taken from the kangaroo, which are used for sewing severe wounds, will hold for about four weeks before they break away. Silk thread will remain much longer, sometimes six months, while the fine silver wire is practically indestructible.

With the entire outfit a surgeon is able to select a thread that will last as long as the wound takes to heal and will then disappear completely. To accommodate this assortment of threads special varieties of needles are required. Besides the needle craned in different segments of a circle, surgeons use needles shaped like spears, javelins and bayonet points. — St. James' Gazette.

Just Names.

She had passed a season abroad, and in London, she said modestly, her success had been unprecedented. The earl said he could readily believe that.

"The dinner," she resumed, "that Lady Featherstonhaugh"—

"Excuse me. The name is pronounced Freestonhay," said the earl.

"Well, at the dinner Lord Dalzell"—

"Though written Dalzell, it it pronounced Deal. But pray go on."

"He and Sir Dugald Colquhoun"—

"You mean Calhoun. Yes?"

"And Lady Leveson-Gower and Mr. Bohun"—

"Lewson-Gore and Boone are the correct pronunciations. But I'm interrupting you."

"Not at all. All these persons and Lord St. Maur drank"—

"Not St. Maur—Seymour. Well?"

"Oh, I forgot what I was going to say. You've quite put me out with your corrections."

"And your story was just getting interesting, too," said the earl regretfully.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Professor Blackie's Opinion.

A correspondent sends an anecdote concerning the attempt of a serious minded lady to lure Professor Blackie into giving his opinion of Sankey's hymns at a time when they had an enormous vogue. The lady was giving the professor lunch, and he tried to fob her off by praising a Stilton cheese on the table. Some time after the lady sent him a copy of Sankey and a piece of the cheese, hoping thus to draw him. She succeeded to the extent of these four lines of verse:

Thrice blessed is she that hath done what she could
To make a lean man fat and a bad man good—
For the body, cheese; for the soul, Sankey;
For both, thankee.

—Glasgow Herald.

A Polite Turn Down.

Sir Algernon West in his reminiscences tells this story of Robert Browning: "When he had become famous some one wanted very much to meet him. A kind friend arranged a meeting, and the guest besieged Browning with questions and conversation during dinner, and even after dinner he continued buttonholing his victim. 'Coma,' said the poet, 'this will never do. They will say I am monopolizing you!'"

Soda and Water.

For sheer simplicity of phrase and conception few have surpassed that delightful old lady who, with a shrewd twinkle in her eye, inquired whether "soda water" should be written as two separate words or if there should be a siphon between them.

Both sons admitted that they were amply able to support their mother but said they could not get along with her.

After severely reprimanding both sons Justice Shipman made it plain that unless they made satisfactory arrangements with the overseer of the poor to support their mother, notwithstanding, he would return the case to court. Both men agreed to perform their duty toward her, but before the ink had dried upon the article of agreement the old lady had died.

It was hurled into the air and the driver, Barnum, got a blow that almost instantly crushed out his life.

This train is the fastest on the road and does not stop at the Beech Creek station. One pair of the wagon wheels was found in a clump of bushes near the track and the remainder was reduced to kindling wood.

NEW WOMAN'S BUILDING.

Was Dedicated Friday With Appropriate Exercises at State College.

The new woman's building at the Pennsylvania State College was dedicated Friday with appropriate exercises, beginning at ten o'clock when the visitors made an inspection of the agricultural building and equipment. At noon luncheon was served in the woman's building by the students in the home economics courses under the direction of Miss Waugh and Miss Bemis. This was followed by an exhibit of sewing and inspection of the new laboratories and dormitories and the other college buildings.

The exercises in the afternoon began at two o'clock, with Miss Sarah Cutts Lovejoy presiding. The address of welcome was made by President E. E. Sparks. This was followed by an address by Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast, chairman of the committee on domestic science scholarship, on "The Place of Domestic Science in the Amelioration of Mankind." Miss Myra Lloyd Duck, of Fayetteville, one of the vice presidents of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, gave an account of the experiences of herself and Miss Kate Cassatt McKnight before the last legislature in the interests of an appropriation to establish a course in home economics at the College and to enlarge the woman's building. The last address of the day was delivered by Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer, who is famous for her writings on cookery, on 'Educational Value of Domestic Science."

The cadet battalion gave an exhibition drill and parade on Beaver field at four o'clock.

The entire woman's building is now about 140 feet in length, 50 feet deep and three stories high. It contains fourteen suites of rooms, each suite being comprised of two bed rooms and a sitting room; and nine single rooms in the dormitories, enough to accommodate twenty-two students as well as the instructors. On the first floor is a big reception room, an immense laboratory and two smaller demonstrating rooms. It is a very complete building and well adapted to the needs of the course in home economics.

Shooting Affray at Tyrone

Tyrone had a sensation in the form of a shooting affray Friday evening, the result of which may prove serious. Clarence Wolfe, a fireman on the Tyrone division, had not been getting along very tranquilly with his wife and only recently they separated, the wife going home to her mother, who also resides in Tyrone. Later, it is alleged, the husband advertised the household goods for sale and the wife followed this notice with another stating that the goods were hers and not for sale.

Friday night about nine o'clock Wolfe went to his wife and it is alleged he made an attempt to take the two-year-old baby to which the mother objected.

He drew a revolver and she attempted to grasp it. Before she could succeed he fired and Mrs. Wolfe received the bullet in her left arm.

Wolfe, whose mind it is thought has shown signs of being slightly unbalanced, then turned the weapon upon himself and attempted to take his own life, shooting himself in the head directly above the eye. Both were removed to the Altoona hospital where they are in a critical condition

Col. Edward A. Irvin.

Col. Edward A. Irvin, of Curwensville, died Tuesday morning of this week at Atlantic City, where he had been staying since the early part of the summer.

He was born at Curwensville 70 years ago this coming January and was a son of William Irvin, a pioneer on the upper Susquehanna. His advantages in youth were those of the remote interior, but in spite of circumstances he developed into leadership early. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted in defense of his country and was given command of the famous fighting Bucktail regiment which he helped organize. As a commending officer he won the real affections of the men in the ranks. He participated in many battles and was wounded at Antietam and South Mountain, one of these wounds giving him much trouble in later life. He was taken captive and was imprisoned in both Andersonville and Libby.

Following the war Col. Irvin engaged in lumbering and in time acquired a large estate. He took much interest in public affairs and was at one time spoken of as a candidate for governor. About ten years ago he was endorsed by the Republicans of Clearfield county as a candidate for United States Senator but did not enter actively into the contest. Four years ago he was elected to serve the unexpired half of Senator Patton's term. Since then he has lived a retired life.

His wife, who was Emma Graham, died about five years ago. One son Hugh and a daughter, Elizabeth, survive. The funeral was held from the late home in Curwensville on Friday.

Big Blasting Job

A great blasting job is under way on the Pennsylvania railroad at a point, near North Bend, where a massive ledge of rock is being removed in order to eliminate what might at some time prove a source of considerable danger to traffic. The task has been under way for some days and it will take some little time yet to complete the blasting, which is being done with extreme care.

The great ledge of rock is half way up the mountain side, at a considerable elevation above the railroad tracks. It is estimated that in one huge mass of rock there is at least 200 tons weight. The massive bed of rock is solid and might remain intact for years, but the damage and trouble that could result from an unexpected fall of this rock would be far-reaching and the rock is therefore being disposed of.

The rock is being blasted away piece meal. The reason for this lies in the fact that with the exercise of the proper care the work can be accomplished without interfering with the road's traffic, which is being done. Even were it possible to throw the ledge down at one or two big blasts, the plan would not be advisable, for the clearing away of the fallen rock would be a long task. As it is, the blasting goes forward steadily and without any attendant inconveniences.
